

My Heroine

Last night, while I was window shopping in a shopping mall, a jobber suddenly bust in.

The roller was wandering around the shopping mall. Suddenly, he took out a knife and started shouting. We all froze. Some were running around, causing chaos in the mall. When I thought I had to give him all my pocket money, my mum showed up.

Despite the chaos, my mum showed great bravery and calmness. She tried to distract the robber when calling the police. Luckily, the police showed up and arrested the robber.

Her actions were truly bold. She saved everyone without regarding her own safety. Her actions taught us to be always fearless and fair.
